Dr. Therese Skubic Kemper is an Associate Professor in the Florida State University Department of Psychology and is the Associate Director of the Psychology Clinic, which is the primary clinical training site for clinical psychology graduate students. She provides direct clinical supervision and teaches a graduate course entitled Techniques of Clinical Supervision. Dr. Skubic Kemper also assists in administrative oversight of the Psychology Clinic, is responsible for program development, and coordinates external practicum opportunities for clinical psychology graduate students. Dr. Skubic Kemper is a member of the Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers and conducts Motivational Interviewing training to graduate students in the Department of Psychology, in other departments within the university, and in the Tallahassee community.