Necia Little currently serves as the Child Protective Investigations Operations Manager in the Northwest Region for the Florida Department of Children and Families. She began her career in child welfare shortly after receiving her Bachelor’s in Social Work from Florida State University in 1996. During her tenure with the agency she has served in a variety of capacities that include but are not limited to the following roles: Child Protective Investigator (CPI), CPI Specialist, and Agency Administrator.

Necia has a passion for serving families and working to meet them where they are at. Each family is unique and she understands that the role of any provider who works with a family must first be able to develop a relationship of trust through family engagement skills. In her role as a leader, she touches a broad spectrum of cases and coaches staff regarding next steps. She consistently reminds staff that every family has challenges, some more than others, and we want to treat them all as if they were own.
